

Tracy Kilborn is the Head of Paediatric Radiology at Red Cross War Memorial Children's Hospital and has a joint appointment at the University of Cape Town as an Associate Professor.

She completed her Radiology training in Oxford, UK and did fellowships in paediatric imaging in Oxford and Toronto.

Her main areas of interest and research center on pediatric neuroradiology, and infectious diseases.

She has been an invited lecturer at ESNR, RSNA, ESPR and ASPNR.

Tracy is passionate about teaching the appropriate imaging of children and is actively involved in outreach to promote this.